Why GED?

College Readiness

Adoption of College Ready Recommendations

Workforce Development

For 75 years and counting, the GED® program proudly prepares adult learners for success in the job market, college, and beyond by building the skills and confidence they need to flourish. As the leading high school equivalency program, we prepare students for success on the GED test and for life.

There are over 20 million graduates a counting

We provide more than just a test by offering every stage of their progress.

With GED Flash™, students can prepare confidence step by step, despite busy schedules practice on-the-go

With the GED Ready® practice test, students can determine if they are ready to pass the test

Students with qualifying scores can get credit for certain courses or placement testing through the GED® College Ready + Credit

Graduates receive a secure e-transcript showcasing their achievement through GED

45%

of GED grads enrolled in a college certificate or degree program within three years

35%

do so within one year of earning a GED credential

90%

persist by re-enrolling from one semester to the next – compared to 29% before 2014

About GED College Ready + Credit

The GED® College Ready + Credit program – the first of its kind – allows students who have demonstrated reading knowledge.

GED® College Ready: Students who score 165 or higher from applicable placement tests have demonstrated high school seniors.

GED® College Ready + Credit: Students who score 175 or higher from applicable placement tests have demonstrated college-level knowledge.

LEARN MORE

ACE CREDIT® and the GED® Test

Since 1974, the American Council on Education College Credit Recommendation Service (ACE CREDIT®) has connected workplace learning with colleges and universities by helping students gain access to academic credit for training taken outside traditional degree programs.

ACE CREDIT® reviews are conducted by university teaching faculty and industry experts.

- The teams review the content of programs or assessments
- They examine how well the programs or assessments align with college and university credit

An ACE CREDIT® team has also reviewed college-level work and performance data. Based on this data, the Testing Service created the GED® College Ready + Credit score levels.

- GED® College Ready: Test level (165-174) demonstrates college-level knowledge and should qualify for developmental education
- GED® College Ready + Credit: Test level (175-185) demonstrates college-level knowledge and should qualify for college-level credit. Math, 3 credits in Science, and English.

GED grads are more likely to be employed at 6 and 12 months

Graduates earn on average $200 more a week than non-high school grads

Graduates have an average 2% lower unemployment rate than non-high school grads

Trackable Outcomes

Data is essential to implementing WIOA. The GED program helps ensure student progress is measurable at all stages, from inquiring about GED prep classes to scores on the GED test. We have developed and continue to develop tools for educators to monitor student performance. Tools like:

GED Score Reports

These provide students and teachers comprehensive information about how to be successful on the GED test.

GED Study Guide SOCIAL STUDIES

What you need to know about the GED® Social Studies Test

You should be familiar with basic social studies concepts, but you're not expected to have in-depth knowledge of each topic.

Remember, the social studies test is not a memorization test! You don't need to know the capitals of countries or the timeframes that certain wars occurred.

You'll need to understand social studies concepts, use logic and reasoning, and draw conclusions (which is using your critical thinking skills in social studies).

This study guide and the example questions in it will help you get an idea of what's going to be on the test.

You don't need to know everything in this guide!

If you want to see how close you are to passing, the GED Ready® official practice test is a great way to help you determine if you're ready.

The ability to read is a vital skill in today's society. Reading is how we discover and learn new things. People who know how to read can educate themselves in any area of life they see fit. We live in an age rich with information; reading is the way to access that information. When asked about students' challenges in preparing for the GED® test, adult educators frequently lament the poor, inefficient, and ineffective reading skills of their students. This lack of strong and effective reading skills often leads to students' difficulty in passing portions of the GED® test. This webinar will focus on strategies that can be used to build students' reading skills. Join us as we review some of the reading challenges student face and learn about strategies, activities and resources that can be used in the classroom.
